Euler

Appointment of Martin Bisping as Chairman of the Board

Zurich, 12 June 2026

Euler ILS Partners Ltd is pleased to announce that Martin Bisping has joined the Board of Directors and assumes the role of Chairman, succeeding Donato Cianciaruso, who has stepped down from the Board. We would like to express our sincere thanks to Donato for his contribution and commitment to the firm over the years.

Martin brings more than 25 years of experience across reinsurance, insurance-linked securities (ILS) and global capital markets. He held senior leadership roles at Swiss Re, including Chief Executive Officer, Chief Investment Officer and Chief Risk Officer of Swiss Re Insurance-Linked Investment Management Ltd, where he was responsible for insurance-linked investment strategies and their associated investment and risk frameworks.

Throughout his career, he has played a central role in shaping large-scale reinsurance and retrocession programmes, with deep expertise in ILS structuring, hedging strategies and capital markets solutions. His background combines underwriting-driven risk insight with institutional-grade investment governance, developed through decades of engagement with global investors and market counterparties.

Martin's deep experience across reinsurance, capital markets and insurance-linked strategies will be highly valuable to Euler as we continue to develop our platform. We are very pleased to welcome him to the Board and look forward to working together in this next phase of growth.
